The "Pedal Down" Approach That Produced Accelerate

Wednesday, February 20, 2019 at 3:40 pm | Back to: Shared News

By Chris McGrath

On the face of it, the way Mike Abraham came up with an Eclipse champion suggests only the futility of all the agonized judgement that typically consumes him—no less than any other breeder—in making plans and decisions.

After all, he bought the dam of Accelerate (Lookin at Lucky) more or less on a whim, an opportunist $25,000 impulse for a mare he hadn't even been to see in the back ring. And she was only sent to Lookin At Lucky, for the mating that produced a GI Breeders' Cup Classic winner, because she was jilted in an engagement with his studmate Scat Daddy.

SPARKLING MOOLAH

champ hangs it up

New Mexico Horse Breeder, August 1981

Before a Memorial Day crowd of 4200 fans, Sparkling Moolah, the three-year-old son of Sparkling Native out of Tonita Moolah, was retired from racing. Although racing for only a little more than one season, Sparkling Moolah leaves behind an impressive race record. Out of eleven starts, he was off the board only once in his career, scoring eight wins and two seconds with earnings of $162,133.

Owned by Mike Abraham and Jim McClintic, Sparkling Moolah, under the skillful training of Jimmy Jones, lists several important races among his many accomplishments. Here in New Mexico he won the New Mexico Breeders' Futurity at the Downs and the New Mexico State Fair Futurity in Albuquerque. In addition, Sparkling Moolah ran in California, winning the Golden State Futurity Consolation at Los Alamitos and running second in the El Primero

Del Ano which is the richest race in the country for Quarter Horse three-year-old colts and geldings.

Sparkling Moolah's owners have received much interest from people wishing to breed their horses to him, so they plan to stand him at stud in 1982 at Rancho De Pena Blanca. Resisting several lucrative offers they had to sell Sparkling Moolah, which would have taken him out of the state, Abraham and McClintic felt that the New Mexico breeding industry could probably benefit by keeping him here. A test breeding was done recently, and the mare is in foal, so Abraham and McClintic are optimistic about next year's breeding season. They have plans to syndicate the horse, hopefully with some flexible terms to allow even the smaller breeders to participate.
